Gen. Campos of the Spanish forces in Cubs proposes to edit all the news reports himself for publication.

The Principality of Trinidad has its Grand Chancellerie located in New York, and the Republic of Cubs appears to have its headquarters in the same city.

There are about 40,000 square miles in the Island of Cuba, and a correspondent at Santiago states that the flag of free Cubs is hoisted over thirteen districts, covering 18,000 square miles, or nearly half the island.

In this day of fads he is wisest who remains simply a Democrat. It may be more popular for a while to be a silver Democrat or a gold Democrat, or a bimetalist Democrat but the original article, plain Democrat, lasts better and longer. - Exchange.

A UNITED DEHOCKACY.

The St. Louis Republican, which is a sound Democratic paper, notwithstanding its name, raises the cry for a united Democracy and very pertmently asks :

"Do the gold standard Democrats and 16 to 1 Democrats know where they are coming out? Have they in view any point of time when they will begin to consider favorably a united Democracy for 1896. Between the gold standard and a 16 to 1 ratio there is an irreconciliable condict. irreconciliable conflict. It is none too soon to ask both sides whether they intend to carry this dispute to the conclusion of splitting the Democratic party. The inflammation cannot go much further on either side without making two tickets and Democratic defeat inevitable."

A COLONIZING SCHEME.

A scheme of great magnitude look ing to the colonization of 5,000 families, or about 30,000 people from Iowa, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Nebraska and other Western States to settle in Georgia is said to be about consummated, and sometime in September, the move ment of these people, it is expected, will be begun to their new nomes.

The land selected for the new colony is in Irwine and Wilcox counties of "the Empire State of the South." The stockholders comprising the colonizing company are 7,000 in number, the majority of whom are well known citizens of Georgia, and many of them are to settle in the colony themselves.

The people who will settle in the new colony include farmers, fruit growers, artisans and others, and in time it is contemplated to build a town with school houses, churches and factories. The land selected is among the most productive in the Senthern country, and the projectors have great hope in the success of their scheme

IS IS DYING OUT.

The opponents of free coinage are confident that they are gaining ground and that the silver craze is dying out. The Washington Post says that many of the leading newsapers not only in the Eastern and Middle sections, but in the West, assert that the conflict of theories on this great question has passed the doubtful stage, and that "sound money" has triumphed. For example, the Boston Advertiser puts

"Fortunately the free coinage craze is fast dying out, even in its strongholds. In Obio, in Kentucky, in Indtana, in Illinois, the movement is steadily against free coinage. Even in Colorado business contracts largely exact gold payments. It is no longer a question of losing the West, but it is matter of gaining the West to honest money principles as opposed to the blunt repudiation doctrine of the free silver school, so offensive to the true honor and honesty that characterize the great majority of the American people," "Fortunately the free coinage craze

A committee of 200 representative business men of Chicago has been appointed to attend the Cotton States Exposition for the purpose of becoming better acquainted with Southern merchants, and also of considering in vestments in Southern enterprises.

This committee will come South, says the Montgomery Advertiser, prepared to examine Southern resources thoroughly, and it thinks that means should be devised to get these gentlemen to make a tour of Alabama, and right here the thought occurs that it would be well to have them make a tour of Virginia also. The resources of Virginia are as great as elsewhere, and the opportunities for profitable investments are as great. Her soil is as fertile; her climate all that could be desired, and her transportation facilities of the best

There is no doubt that thousands who visit the Exposition will extend their travel to other sections of the South, and Virginia will be glad to have them come to the Old Dominion There are great opportunities here for those baving money to invest, and if the fact was properly presented much good might follow.

A Father's Song.

A Father's Song.

Welcome, O bright little sprite! I can see
Nothing in life half as winsome as thes,
Nothing that opens my heart half as wide
As thy cunning, soft coo, O my prince and my pride!
I linger in love o'er thy bonny young face,
And there in its tenderful trust I can trace
The loveliest looks of my bride, and I see
In thy moments rebellious reminders of me.

Yes, a sweet little, neat little cherub art thot Save when thou art fractious and kick up rew. And then thou art such a true image of me That no longer a charm in thy visage I see.

But when theu art lying screne in my arms Like a pure, peccless sunflash returneth thy charms,

And I kiss and caress thee with fatherly joy
For looting so much like thy mother, my loy.

Oh, live to be all I would have thee to live.
And give to me all I would have thee to give—
A maire that is stainless, a heart that is brave,
A hand that is lavish to succor and save.
A soul scorning everything lawless and low,
And these, O my boy, thou wilt give me, I know.

May God in his love be thy leader through life And shield thee and save thee through all o

And shield thee and save the strife.

May every benison he can bestow Caress thee, my siled, and bless thee below And make of thy years one percunial bliss, And I seal my fond prayer with a fatherly kiss — Will Hubbard-Kernan.

A Becrometer,

There is progress everywhere. In southern Germany, where incredible quantities of beer are drunk daily, and where the steady enstomers sit for hours at table, drinking glass after glass, mug after mug, illled by buxon maids, some genius has introduced the "beerometer," attached to the bottom of the drinking vessel—a numbered dial with one hand. With each glassful or mugful which the drinker receives the hand is advanced one number. As the hand cannot be moved backward, the "beerometer" exercises perfect control—to the saloon bearing action. keeper's satisfaction at least.

How Will They Get It? Silverites reply to the proof that there is far more money now in this country than at any previous period in our his-tory by saying: "The money is all locked up in the banks. We want free silver so the people will have the mon-ey." But they never explain how free coinage, under which the silver mine owners' would take their bullion to the mint and get back coined dollars, would put those dollars in the pockets of the people, or how it would keep them out of the banks if their owners chose to de-posit them. The fact that we have nearly five times as much money per capita as Moxico, a free silver country, should lead the believers in free coinage to think a little about the probable results
